Aadhaar Correction Process

StreetSmarter : Because no one taught us this stuff www.streetsmarter.in

A spelling mistake in your name or a wrong date of birth on your Aadhaar can quietly cause problems for years, bank KYC, exam forms, scholarships. Here's the condensed version of how to actually fix it.

What You Can Fix, and Where

UIDAI splits corrections into two rough categories, and where you go depends on which one you need.

- Online, from home (myaadhaar.uidai.gov.in): address updates, and re-uploading a clearer or updated supporting document for details already on file.
- In person, at an Aadhaar Seva Kendra: name, date of birth, gender corrections, and anything biometric, your photo, fingerprints, or iris scan.
- Mobile number registration or change also requires a centre visit, it can't be done online.

How to Do It Online (Address & Documents)

1. Go to myaadhaar.uidai.gov.in and log in with your Aadhaar number and OTP.
2. Select "Update Demographics" or the document upload option from the dashboard.
3. Enter the corrected details, or upload a clear, recent supporting document (like a utility bill, bank statement, or rent agreement for address).
4. Submit, and note down your URN or SRN (the tracking number), you'll need it to check status.

How to Do It at a Centre (Name, DOB, Gender, Biometrics)

1. Book a slot online where possible, it saves a long wait.
2. Carry original documents plus self-attested photocopies, matched to what you're correcting (birth certificate for DOB, school leaving certificate, passport, etc.).
3. The operator verifies your documents and updates the record, capturing biometrics again if needed.
4. You'll get an acknowledgement slip with a tracking number (URN). Keep it, it's your proof the request was filed.

Good to Know

A few details that trip people up.

- Date of birth can generally only be corrected once. After that, further changes need special approval, so double-check before submitting.
- There's usually a small fee for demographic corrections at a centre, and a slightly higher one for biometric updates. Fees and any limited-time free offers change, so check the current rate on the official portal before you go.
- Processing typically takes anywhere from a few days up to 30 days depending on what's being corrected.
- Always use the official UIDAI site or app. Search results and third-party sites that ask for payment upfront for "Aadhaar correction" are a common scam pattern.
